We are mailing out bills to all delinquents this week out of the city and sending our collectors to those in the city and we ask all to please be ready and pay at once.

Roosevelt said—"All men up and no men down."

Let's all get behind Dr. Unthank and Prof. Lee and go over the top for $75,000.00 in the Liberty Memorial Campaign.

Negroes of Kansas City are expected to raise seventy-five thousand dollars of the two million five hundred thousand to be raised for the Liberty Memorial. Can we do it? Forty thousand Negroes answer, "I say we can." Well let's go to it, even as our boys did in glorious France.

The Editor acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the Inaugural Exercises at Howard University, Thursday, November 13, when the new president, Dr. J. Stanley Purcell will be installed, but owing to financial shortage he will hardly be able to attend.

Prof. Charles Bertram Johnson of Kirksville, Mo., author of "Songs of My People," and other poems and prose was an honored caller at the Sun office last week. Prof. Johnson is a splendid young man of modest but intellectual demeanor and we predict for him a great future. One of his compositions entitled "The Blind Samson of America," will appear in our next week's issue.

The recent session of the Baptist State Convention held in this city was a complete success both in point of attendance and in financial achievement. More than $10,000 was raised for Western College and all of their obligations were promptly met. President Caston and Secretary Goolsby deserve much credit for the business-like manner in which the work of the Convention was transacted, while the Women's department also made a splendid record. The Second Baptist Church entertained the Convention in royal style and nothing but praise was heard on every hand from the messengers and visitors.

The Press despatches this week say that the Southern Newspaper Publishers' Association would spend a hundred thousand dollars this year advertising the South. 'Tisn't necessary, brother, your rough necks and lynchers have advertised the South so thoroughly that there isn't any danger or possibility of any immigration setting in toward the frightened swiftness of our fair land. Clean up, put down lynchings, break your young white "bloodes" away from their Negro Mistresses, cut out your vicious Jim Crow and give every man a square deal and then you'll not be wasting money advertising your "beloved South."

A WONDERFUL SERMON.

One of the most remarkable, logical and eloquent sermons ever heard in historic Allen Chapel was delivered last Sunday morning by the Rev. J. Lyle Caston, pastor of the Allen Baptist of St. Louis and a younger son of President J. T. Caston of the State Baptist Convention. Allen was unprepared for such a wonderful sermon from such a young man but at its conclusion a wave of religious fervor such as is seldom witnessed in this staid and dignified congregation broke over the assembly and continued for several minutes. Prof. Herriford facetiously moved that Rev. Caston be immediately received in the Methodist Church and Bishop Parks be notified that Allen Chapel's pulpit had been FILLED which provoked much merriment and applause. If young Caston continues developing as evidenced in his splendid sermon last Sunday, it will be but a short time until he is rated as not only the foremost preacher of his own denomination but of the race in America.

FAMOUS PORO PAINTINGS.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 23.—The famous Poro building of which Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Malone are founders has been newly decorated inside by the firm of Marx & Jones. There are now three immense panels in the lobby, called the "Mural Tripartite," a tribute to our Race. They are the Genesis, Exodus and Apotheosis, and each panel has an interesting history. Three heroic figures of the beautiful womanhood of the Race personify Liberty and her hand maidens. One cannot but think as they look at this picture that it expresses fond hope. It really represents the woman whose genius made the Poro college possible, and on Sunday, the veil was lifted. It was a notable occasion in the Mound City, Bishop C. S. Smith, Detroit, Mich., Rev. Reverdy Ransom, New York, Bishop H. B. Parks, Chicago; Dr. A. J. Carey, Chicago, were among the speakers present. An elaborate musical program was rendered. Rev. Dr. Peck, pastor of the church which Mr. and Mrs. Malone attend, was Master of Ceremonies.

Betty & Sam's Little Corner

THEY SAY

—That travel broadens some people while we know a whole lot of others that it broke.

—That when Negroes make friends of such men as R. A. Long, they're making friends worth while.

—That if some girls are as "old as they look" they must be rich on to a hundred. And that's no lie.

—That if some of those dudes don't take off those low cut shoes they'll soon be putting on wooden overcoats. Help!

—That being in love is worse than having the mumps. Well Betty and Sam don't know, they've never had either.

—That there is plenty of room at the top, but as soon as a man gets there, he tries his best to occupy all the space.

—That it has been proven time and again that the greatest blessing Kansas City has received in recent years was the coming to our city of Principle J. R. E. Lee.

—That "Dad" Caston may be some preacher but Betty and Sam say he'll have to go some to beat that sermon delivered by J. Lyle Caston at Allen Chapel last Sunday morning.

—That the man or woman who comes in at the farthest door of a Church from where they intend to sit and walks clear around the auditorium to attract attention, may think they are cute by nine out of ten people think they are only making fools of themselves—Amen

—That a man consulted a physician the other day in this manner: "Doc, has you a medicine called de black bottle?" The physician, surprised, but amused, said: "Well, I might fix something up and call it that," to which the stranger remarked: "I want you to fix one up fuh me, case you see it's dis way: I bin doin' without chicken; I bin doin' without pok chops, I bin doin' without biscuits, and now dat dis country is dry I has to do without my gin." The physician, like he, felt that a black bottle was necessary, so when he got out his pad and pencil, the prospective patient said: "Doc, I believe I'll jus leve dat heah' wid you until I can see if dis country remains dry."

Who is selling property, for small payments down
He sold a house the other day

And also tells them, to buy homes.
If you have no home, take a hint,

Listen what he did say,
And go and see him, this very day.
